A luxurious marina at the entrance to Montenegro's breathtaking Boka Bay, Portonovi Marina is perfectly positioned for exploring the southern Adriatic.

Location

Portonovi Marina is located in Herceg Novi, at the very entrance of Boka Bay, where the turquoise Adriatic Sea meets the mighty mountains of Montenegro.

The marina is a part of the exclusive resort Portonovi. The three nearest international airports are Tivat (17 km southeast), Dubrovnik (35 km northwest) and Podgorica (101 km east).

Nature

Boka Bay's Lovćen National Park and its namesake mountain are known as the heart of Montenegro and the inspiration behind the country's name. Do not miss southern Europe's largest lake, the pristine Lake Skadar, and the bright blue-green rivers of Durmitor National Park.

Cuisine

The cuisine of Boka Bay is traditionally Mediterranean, featuring an array of seafood and shellfish. When in Boka, try providurova palamida, stuffed mackerel served with olives, or sardele a la bisernice, rolled sardines with a special onion and olive oil mixture.

Culture

The delightful town of Kotor was an important Venetian trading post. Today its old town is a showcase of medieval palaces, maze-like stone alleyways and dazzling vistas from the city wall viewpoint up 1350 stairs. The 17th century Ostrog Monastery, carved almost vertically out of a cave, is a worthwhile day trip.

Must-See

Lose your sense of time in historic Perast, a small town with one main street and 16 churches; notice the striking St. Nicholas Church jutting out of the skyline. Surrounded by rocky mountains and stark blue bays, the town's shoreline is home to St. George Island and its medieval church.

Stroll the old town of Budva that spans 2500 years of history in its cobblestone squares and ancient churches, delight in its 35 beaches, ranging from Drobni Pijesak to sandy Mogren, and take in the town's buzzy nightlife, paired with shots of rakija.

Marvel at the natural beauty of the Tara Canyon, a UNESCO World Heritage Site featuring emerald cascades, mirror-like lakes encircled by pine trees and ripe-for-trekking mountain peaks like Prokletije. Take your pick of outdoorsy fun, from rafting and ziplining to hiking up Mount Ćurevac for superb views.

Meander the winding stone streets of Herceg Novi, the town that proudly guards the entrance to Boka Bay. Explore its serene spots like Savina Monastery, with an on-site 18th-century-style winery, lounge at the bustling cafes like Gradska Kafana and gaze at the Adriatic over a plate of freshly grilled prawns.
